High-performance products

Premium Applications offer comprehensive solutions for specific professional challenges. They can be combined according to the mix & match principle and integrated into any cplace installation.

"Even at an early stage of the project, comprehensible and concrete results could be achieved. The finished product is immediately usable without further training due to its intuitive usability, the comprehensible description of functions and processes, and the clear navigation and structure."

Daniel Wolf, Project Manager Building Department Civil Engineering, City of Munich

"I think - and all those involved will confirm this - that we can now react even more efficiently to changes. The new tool offers us time savings in preparation and, on the part of the authorities, in processing. That will help us a lot."

Stephanie Martin, Group Manager HRC, Continental Reifen Deutschland GmbH
